THE ARTIST'S STORY.

He Marries His Ideal Baby and Ideal Girl.

"You would like to know the story of that picture? Well, well, old boy, it is just like you to light upon the very one that I take pleasure in giving the history."

We were seated in my studio, my friend, Ralph Wallace, and myself, and before Ralph was standing the picture of which he had been speaking.

"Then begin at once, for this baby face haunted me the whole night through. I stole in here yesterday, while you were trying to convince your wife that no threats of silver were visible among the golden meshes of her hair."

By the way, I see her going around the house this morning with a satisfied, superior sort of look upon her face, and, my dear boy, it leads me to think that you came out second best in the argument."

"Ralph, if I had told that woman that I saw old age creeping upon her, and that I saw a silver thread among the gold, she would have been up in arms instantly. It is funny, but really my wife is glad she is getting gray, humiliating as it may be to her pride, for for nothing more than getting the better of me in the argument. Dear, dear, what I have suffered at the hands of that woman!—this with a fond look across the hall and through the doorway where his wife is busy darning."

"I would like to hear about the picture, so if you can keep your eyes off that lady across the way for a few minutes I am ready to listen."

"Once upon a time, while walking along the street, when I was Lee Rossi, the poor artist, and not the famous individual I now am, I saw a picture of a baby, and, really, Ralph, I have never gotten over the habit of letting a very little praise turn my head completely, my eyes caught the glimmer of a little trick-letting just at my feet. On stooping to pick it up that wonderful baby face looked up into mine with such a cunning look in its eyes, and such a cunning smile playing about the corners of the rose-bud mouth. I thought I had never seen such a baby. Then the tangle of golden ringlets, that looked as though baby had been taken right from play, I saw her picture taken."

"Well, I put the locket in my pocket and came home with renewed energy, awakened, for I thought I would paint a large picture of my baby and would compete for the prize at the contest which was to come off."

"I worked night and day, at the picture, resolved that I would finish it before advertising for the owner, and during this time I grew to love this little face which greeted me every morning on entering here to begin work."

"Did you ever find the owner of the locket?" asks Ralph of the artist, who is apparently forgotten all about the story in smiling back at baby.

"One morning after I had finished the portrait I heard a timid little knock at the door, and, on opening it, saw a lady standing in the hallway. Such a vision of beauty I had never seen before. A glance at the lady, though beautiful face, told me without looking at the dress and bonnet of black that she had recently under gone a great sorrow."

"A little story took hold of me, and I was nestling on the low, white forehead as though proud of its resting place. While talking to me one little hand moved restlessly about, as though seeking some support, and having at last found its mate they became interlaced, and remained so while her hand was told."

"The voice that charmed me, and of all, I believe I never heard a sweeter, softer voice (except my wife's); you must acknowledge that she has that one accomplishment. Ralph."

"She wanted to have a picture of her brother enlarged, and thought perhaps, as I was a new beginner, she would let me attempt it."

"By this time we were inside the studio, and Michael (that was the name I had decided upon for my picture) was standing on an easel facing the door."

"The young lady's gaze rested for a moment on the picture and I saw blank astonishment written on her countenance. Turning to me with a flushed, puzzled face, she said:

"Where did you get that picture?"

"I told her the same story I have been telling you, and I had great expectations in regard to my picture. It seemed as though at sight I could count on this beautiful girl who looked so trustfully into my eyes."

"And what had this girl to do with the picture?" says Ralph, who is again impatient at the long delay.

"Why it was she who had lost the picture. Who was the baby? My baby had grown up and was now standing before me. 'Twas a picture her mother had taken of her eighteen years before, and which the girl had always carried in the locket worn suspended from a little chain around her neck."

"Having taken out her brother's from the other side of the locket a few weeks before, for the purpose of having it enlarged, she had saved it from being lost, and was now here with this picture."

"The perfectly cut mouth I could clearly trace now, and the beautiful eyes, as for a moment my young lady smiles at 'Michael,' but again her face resumes that far away expression."

"Well, I took the order for the picture she had brought, and which she had in my hand with a loving look, as though loth to part with it, for her brother had died recently, and it was her one little treasure."

"She came often after that, and by degrees I learned her sad story."

"Being an only daughter, and having but one brother, a wealth of affection had been bestowed upon these children by their parents."

"When Alma Hasting (this was the young lady's name) was in her 16th year, her parents determined to cross the ocean and let Alma finish her musical education there. Mr. Hastings settled his business affairs in New York, and with wife and children started over to remain a couple of years. The vessel in which they sailed sprung a leak and was swept away by a fierce storm. Alma and her brother were saved, and were taken on board another vessel."

"The pitiless sea had deprived the children of both parents. They came to this place, where the young girl thought she would carry out her mother's wishes in regard to music, and also thinking it would better the health of her idolized brother."

"Four years after coming here, and just a few months before the day she made her appearance in my studio, her brother Paul died, leaving her without any near friend."

"Can you wonder that coming in contact with this sweet, sad girl day after day my heart went out to her?"

"I hunted the city over for her, but no trace could I find. 'Tis needless to say, the picture took the prize, but I longed for the beautiful original. No, Ralph, I see you are looking rather scared since my wife came in, but Alma is the only one she does not appear jealous of, for she knows that had it not been for the influence of that beautiful girl she would not have had as good a husband. Eh, my dear?"

"No, I would not, but you are continually telling some one of your 'baby picture,' says Mrs. Rossi, with a loving little pat on the shoulder as she passes him."

"Bless your heart, no, I thought I would hunt her up and off her a brotherly affection. I could be nothing else to her. Well, I searched every possible place for her, and at last in despair I went to our old home in New York. There, after making numerous inquiries, I found her staying with an old schoolmate of her's."

"Although I went frequently to see her, I gave up ever getting her affection—indeed I did not repeat my proposal, so assured of the fact that I became, and when I took the trembling little hand in mine to offer a brother's love she told me it could not be. I could not tear myself away from the city which contained my darling, and there I stayed."

"Yes, I supposed you remained until Mrs. Rossi came appeared on the scene, I heard from some of the boys you got your wife in New York."

"Let me make you acquainted with the baby whose story you have become so excited over," says Mr. Rossi, bringing Mrs. Rossi toward Ralph."

"Is it possible? Well, I am surprised! How did you manage it old fellow?"

"I stayed on and on and worried that girl until she did marry me, although she said she loved me when I asked her if she would take me as a brother, and that she had loved me ever since I found her at her friend's. You see my good qualities proved too much for her, and that she had to come over to my side. There is no accounting for a girl's taste. I've wondered many a time about it."

"And so you married your ideal baby and ideal girl. Well, what do you think of her now?"

"Now I can say:

"Old time has dimmed the luster of her eye that brightly shone;

And her voice has lost the sweetness of its girlish silvery tone;

But her heart is still as cheerful as in early days of life,

And as fondly as I prized my bride I love my dear old wife."

LOUIS RIEL.

London, Oct. 22.—The Imperial Privy Council has dismissed the appeal of Louis Riel, the leader of the half-breed insurrection in Canada, against the sentence of death passed upon him by the Canadian courts.

MR. FITZPATRICK SPEAKS.

In an interview, Mr. Fitzpatrick, Riel's Canadian counsel, said: "It is impossible to pretend that Riel was not unfairly tried. No doubt at the time of the outbreak in the Northwest, grievances existed, which have since been remedied. Riel commenced the agitation from purely political motives. Many people still consider that he rendered valuable service to the country. Doubtless excitement again induced a serious effect on Riel's mental condition, rendering him incapable of keeping the rebellion within legal bounds. On the scaffold Riel will be a martyr, in prison or in an asylum he would be forgotten. 'In face of the conflicting medical evidence in Riel's case, Mr. Fitzpatrick advocates the appointment by the Canadian Government of a commission to again examine the prisoner."

PRER COMMENTS.

London, Oct. 23.—The Times says: "The judgment in the Riel case leaves Canada free to act as she thinks best. It is the universal opinion in England that Riel deserves death and if he be executed the justice of the decision will not be questioned."

The Daily Telegraph, commenting on Riel's case, says: "On the whole, yesterday's judgment is upheld by reason and comes from lawyers of such undoubted ability that it may be assumed to cover the justice of the case. The end of the chapter rests with Canada. Riel cannot complain if Canada, now master of the situation, exacts the last penalties."

MONTREAL, Oct. 23.—Among the Liberals and Conservatives here, the general belief exists that Riel will be hanged. It is thought that every step for his life in the appointment of a medical commission, whose examination may show that he is insane."

QUEBEC, Oct. 23.—Mr. Lamont, counsel for Riel, has sent a request to the Governor-General, asking that a medical commission be appointed to inquire into his mental state."

PARIS, Oct. 23.—M. Rochefort to-day publishes an article in his newspaper, the Intransigent, defending the action of Louis Riel, the leader of the half-breed insurrection in the Northwest Territory, and attacking in a scurrilous manner Queen Victoria and the Prince of Wales. The latter part of the article has greatly angered the English Colony in Paris and the best circles of French society.

MONTREAL, Oct. 23.—La Minerve, a leading French paper here, contains a strong article against Riel, who, it believes, is not entitled to sympathy simply because he is a French Canadian. "To make the cause of Riel," it says, "the cause of party or nationality to excuse the imprisonment of the priests and sisters, to approve of murder, pillage and heresy to create among other nationalities a hatred of Frenchmen, and to make us a race of blind fanatics, Riel may excite sympathy, there is not a political offender who does not. In the judgment that is given in his case it is not to be considered whether he is a French Canadian or an English Canadian, judgment should be equal for all."

TORONTO, Oct. 22.—The Mail, commenting on the result of the Riel appeal says: "As it is not the province of the executive to review the finding of jurors on questions of fact unless new evidence has meantime come to light, and it is not pretended that such a thing happened here, it follows that the verdict cannot now be challenged on the ground of the prisoner's insanity and we presume the sentence of the court will be daily carried out and Riel will be executed for his crime."

MONTREAL, Oct. 23.—The news of the result of Riel's appeal excited no apparent interest here. The Gazette says all Riel's actions continue to prevent the entertainment of any idea that for a second time mercy should be extended to him.

OTTAWA, Oct. 23.—The Citizen, the Government organ in this city, leads its comments on the Riel appeal case with the word "Doomed." After recounting Riel's various crimes, it says: "It is time we have heard the last of him."

To the Editor of the Brandon Mail.

DEAR SIR,—If not mistaken, every citizen of this city has a right to believe its public officers worthy of the trust which has been vested in them by the city fathers. The writer of these few lines unfortunately met lately with an incident which tends to a great extent to shake his faith in the Chief's substantiality. Last Saturday, I went to see him in the interests of a friend of mine, and asked if he could give his assistance in the matter. I explained the case in all its details, and then he informed me that he would not have anything to do with it—for fear of making enemies. Very well, I said, I must take some other means, and wishing him good-day, I went my way.

Having confided in the Chief's trust the case of my friend, and besides having his word that he would not have anything to do with it, I never thought for a minute that I had made a great mistake in placing my confidence in him, but before the sun was down, I was informed that the Chief of Police of Brandon was deceptive. Without any fear of making enemies, he had sent word to the interested party that I had requested his assistance for a special purpose and to be on the look-out for my coming during the day.

Now, Mr. Editor, thanking you for your kindness, I leave the case to the admiration or to the appreciation of the citizens of Brandon in general, and of the City Council in particular. Let them decide if our Chief of Police is unofficial or too official.

Yours respectfully,

FATHER ROBILLARD.

INVENTOR EDISON'S WEALTH.

How much is Edison worth? I do not know. But he is what most people would call a rich man, even in these modern days. He has a regular annual income from the Western Union Telegraph Company of $250,000 in royalties on old patents. He is the principal stockholder in five manufacturing companies that bear his name, with an aggregate of $900,000 capital, and all of them paying large dividends every six months. He has put $250,000 in cash into the Downtown Electrical Illuminating Company, which has earned a dividend, notwithstanding the large expenditures such experiments required. Since the death of Mrs. Edison he has moved with the three children into a flat on Eighteenth street, near Broadway, where the inquisitive could probably ascertain that he pays his rent with scrupulous regularity. In fact, Edison has a very practical side, and probably receives an income of from $75,000 to $100,000.—N. Y. World.

WORM POWDERS.

PROVINCIAL.

Messrs. Campion Bros., of Sifton, suffered a severe loss on Friday last through prairie fire. Twelve stacks, consisting of about 2,000 bushels of grain, were consumed by the devouring elements. Mr. McKinnon also lost about 100 tons of hay and about 1,000 bushels of wheat by the same fire.

At the last meeting of the Wallace Council a by-law was passed for compensating owners of horses and mules ordered to be destroyed on account of having the glanders.

At a special meeting of the Town Council, of the Portage, it was decided, upon the Solicitor's advice, to pay no attention to the Sheriff's levy of 27 mills on the dollar, it having been struck at too late a date to be collected this year. This will be good news to the ratepayers.

The Minnecota Tribune says: The exodus from Rapid City still continues. Dr. Cornell, W. A. Cowan druggist, and D. M. Butchart hardware merchant have decided to remove from that hamlet to pastures new and green at Killarney on the Manitoba South-western Ry.

A new machine for lifting track has just been invented and was tested on the M. & N. W. to-day. It is in the shape of a handcar and enables one man to do the work of five or six. Mr. Grant was present at the test and says that with improvement in some slight particulars the machine will be perfect and will enable ballasting to be carried on much more rapidly than heretofore. There is a fortune in it for the inventor.

Mr. J. W. Ferrier, of Minnedosa, has been at work for some time on an improved windmill, and has succeeded in perfecting a machine by which greater power is obtained from a small mill than on the old principle. It is said they can be manufactured at a price which will bring them into general use for farm and dairy work. Mr. Ferrier has made application for a patent and will probably begin the manufacture of machines as soon as this is issued.

Dominion City, Oct. 21.—Mr. Woodhead, of Green Ridge, accidentally discharged his rifle while shooting partridges this morning, the ball entering his jaw near his mouth and is supposed to have lodged in his neck. Drs. Cameron and Bedford, of Emerson, are probing for the ball. The particulars of the accident are not fully known.

Regina, Oct. 22.—Much public satisfaction is caused by the resumption of work on the Regina and Long Lake Railway. The grading is all finished to Long Lake, and track laying is pushed forward at a mile a day.

Within ten days the road to Long Lake will have been completed. A working staff of seventy men and twenty teams is employed at present. The energetic promoter of the line, Mr. Pugsley, while at the end of the track yesterday, had a narrow escape from being killed by a spirited runaway horse. He is progressing favorably, and is expected to be able to proceed to Winnipeg to-night.

A communication having been sent from the Provincial Department of Agriculture to Vice-President Van Horne, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, urging the company to put in force the most favorable rates possible for the transport of grain over the all-rail route eastward, and especially to make a reduced rate for grain that may have been damaged in any way by frost, the Vice-President has replied, under date of the 17th inst., as follows: "We have already taken steps to ascertain exactly what action on the part of the company will best meet the present situation in the Northwest, and secure to the farmers the best possible price for their grain. I expect to be in Manitoba within ten days, and hope to be able then to reach some conclusion in the matter."

A Manitoba and Northwestern Railway brakeman named Robinson was struck by a C. P. R. engine at Portage la Prairie Friday morning and killed.

The Free Press: A Main street merchant, in the course of a conversation last evening, predicted with considerable assurance that the crops would not be injured by frost next year, connecting the early frosts of the past three seasons with the circumstance of the moon being full between the 20th of August and the 10th of September. While he was speaking another gentleman came up and supported the theory; and both of them were prepared to name others of the same belief as themselves. Having ascertained that full moon will not occur next year between the dates mentioned, they are ready to advise farmers to sow Red Fife wheat without fear and in as large quantities as possible next season.

Yankton, Dak., Oct. 23.—Lannie McAttee, of Daveport, Iowa, and J. W. Cronin, of Winnipeg, Canada, played a match game of billiards Wednesday night. Both are expert players, but the odds were in favor of McAttee. McAttee scored 340 to Cronin's 120. McAttee made a run of 6,004 this afternoon, said to be the largest on record.

The merchant tailors' association of Toronto, have decided to publish a black list showing the debtors who never pay. The best means of giving most publicly is under consideration.

The resolution of the local board of health,

Montreal, calling upon the central board to close the churches, is meeting with great opposition. Monsignor Fabre, the Catholic Bishop, at times this morning denounced the idea in unmeasured terms, saying that the authorities need not think they can bring about such an unprecedented revolution as the suppression of public religion at a time of calamity like the present. Bishop Bond, of the Anglican Commission, has also spoken against it, while Father Dowd, of St. Patrick's, and the Rev. Mr. Stone of St. Martin's, (Anglican) say they will absolutely refuse to comply with the measures should they be enforced. The number of cases in the Civic Hospital up to date is 455, of which 118 died. Nineteen new cases of small-pox were reported and verified yesterday. A signal of sanitary policemen proceeded to Provost street and neighborhood to-day and removed 7 persons who were suffering with small-pox to the hospital. There was no disturbance. Four more patients were removed this evening. The priest of the district assisted the efforts of the officers, by permission. Fifteen cases of small-pox have been reported at St. Gabriel.

The Port Arthur Herald says: Boston O'Brien, who formerly lived here for some months, arrived in town a few days ago from down the line, where he has put in the summer. Boston was making arrangements to leave this country when word was received here to arrest him. He was therefore lodged in the police station on a charge of robbing one Wilson of $300, two gold rings and a gold watch. One of the rings is valued at $100. When arrested Boston had two rings in his possession. He is now awaiting trial, and instructions have been sent to Penitentiary Harbor for a minute description of the stolen property.

Anson Raymond, proprietor of the Bayview Hotel, Toronto, has been arrested on the charge of indecently assaulting Mrs. Henrietta Thayer, a boarder. Raymond alleges blackmailing.

The order of Secretary Manning, of the United States treasury, prohibiting the shipping of cereals in bond from American ports to American ports, in Canadian vessels, will have a serious effect on the Lake Superior lines which are owned principally in Canada. Shippers here hope the Canadian Government will yet reach an arrangement with the authorities at Washington that will avert the enforcement of the order.

The sale of Ontario Government timber berths on the north shore of Lake Huron Friday, in Toronto, realized close on half a million dollars. The prices obtained are good, and there was a large attendance of buyers from the States and Dominion.

Burwell and Skynner, two Hudson Bay observers, arrived in Toronto, Friday. They say there are thirteen weeks' navigation of the straits for properly constructed vessels—that is, those that will think no more of an ice field than a gale of wind. The lowest temperature they had been thirty below zero. The winds were at times terrific, registering as high as eighty-four miles an hour.

YOU AND I.

Though winter winds may whistle
In summer roars blow,
The rose may be a thistle
For aught that we may know.
Time alone is noticed,
For the hours so swiftly fly,
And that is all we care for
When together—you and I.

Three trees may droop their branches
Beneath a steady rain,
Or when the sun comes out again;
They may be bare and shivering
Nesth an icy winter sky,
But our hearts heed not the seasons
When together—you and I.

Ah, yes! I see the violets—
They tell me of your love;
Perhaps we'd rather linger
In the shelter of the grove,
Young love has glances far too sweet
For colder hearts to spy,
So we'll keep our stolen kisses
And our secrets—you and I.

FOREIGN.

London, Oct. 22.—The English Form has adopted a resolution stating that the ruin of the present rate of exchange, and the Government must formulate a measure which will prevent the raising of rent on the improvements of tenants.

London, Oct. 22.—The St. Stephen's Review, a letter signed "Mansfield," on the subject of Mr. Labouchere, editor of the Truth, challenging Mr. Allison, editor of the St. Stephen's Review, to a duel, for writing scurrilous verses reflecting on Mr. Labouchere's ancestors. Mr. Allison responds in reply, refusing to entertain the "ridiculous proposal," as he says he has no wish to hurt Mr. Labouchere or to be hurt himself. He says he is unconscious of having abused Mr. Labouchere. He has always regarded Mr. Labouchere as a subject for mirth rather than for indignation. Mr. Allison proposes that an aged retainer should meet Mr. Labouchere with horse whips, the use of which, he says, Mr. Labouchere has learned from experience.

Centerville, Miss., Oct. 23.—Three miles from this place, yesterday, Robert Jones, a colored man, noticed a little girl playing on the railroad track. At the same moment he heard the rumbling of an approaching train, and, turning around, saw the engine turning curve only a few yards away. Jones made a dash for the child, and just as he gathered her up in his arms the engine struck them, mangled both fearfully. Death was instantaneous.

Cattaraugus, Oct. 23.—A native of Albania today made an attempt to shoot the Montenegrin Minister of war. The attempt was unsuccessful. When arrested the man only avowed that he was a member of a conspiracy formed against the frontier detention commission. He regretted that his shot had not been fatal. The prisoner was summarily executed.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 23.—This morning the body of Japhet Kaufman, a well known and respected Mexican, of this city, was found on the prairie near the Orphan's Home. The body was entirely nude, the back, arms, sides and limbs horribly scarred and covered with blood. An investigation resulted in showing that, after undressing, Kaufman forced his way back and forth through a barbed wire fence eight times, as shown by marks of blood and pieces of skin which were on the wire in different places, and hand marks on the sand beneath. The skin on nearly every part of the body hung in shreds. The coroner was satisfied that Kaufman became suddenly insane, and held no inquest.

Tangiers, Oct. 23.—The cruelties practiced by the authorities of Morocco are attracting the serious attention of all the foreign representatives and an appeal to their respective governments will probably be made to stop the horrible atrocities which are almost daily perpetrated on alleged criminals for some imaginary offense. Recently one of the officials of this city caused a poor woman, who was executed, to be flayed in the presence of her husband and father. The woman's arms were tied together, drawn over her head and then the rope was fastened to a stake to hold her in that position. The lashes were laid so heavily that blood flowed freely from the unfortunate creature's back. Her aged father and unhappy husband were compelled to witness her terrible sufferings. After the flaying the woman was taken to the house of an English lady where she is now being kindly cared for. The foreign residents are greatly shocked at the occurrence of such cruelties and have signed a petition for a protectorate.

WRAPS.

Many of the new cloth pelisses exhibited last season are reproductions of the shapes of last year, these fitting the figure with the richness of the jersey, showing a single belt in front, with full platings or heavy shawls in the back. More novel wraps, however, are cut with a loose square front either single or double breasted, but adorned with a single belt, with a choice in the sleeve of one cut in close coat fashion, one square, or in bishop shape. The pelisses gathered in at the waist. The checked clothes of mingled brown, cardinal, red and gold and the English homespun are made up in varied fashions. The market, Battenberg and pelisse shapes many of which are finished in the back with a long, flat-pointed hood gayly lined. There are also small shoulder cape of plush velvet or camel's hair cloth of extra thickness. Stockings in deep rich shades of mahogany, bronze, Venetian green, plum color, or dark marine blue are very stylish in these new shapes, trimmed with plush of the same shade and chenille fringes. More expensive jackets are made of Ottoman cloth in these same colors, trimmed with handsome Soutache embroideries in a deeper color, and bordered with bands of Persian lamb's skin, which is but another name for astrakhan fur.

VIENNA BREAD.

Break into one quart of wetting, which is one-half milk and half warm water, two cakes of compressed yeast, adding an even tablespoonful of salt, and stirring in slowly as much flour as will make a stiff dough. Dredge the moulding board lightly and pour out the dough, put a little flour on the hands and knead lightly till the dough is smooth and does not adhere to the hands or to the board. Wash the bowl and warm it; grease lightly with fresh lard and put the dough in. Cover with a clean towel, and over this put a piece of flannel kept for the purpose, and put the bowl in some corner free from draughts, but not near the stove. It will be ready to put in the bread tins in three hours, sometimes less than that, the time varying a little with the temperature. When the dough has risen sufficiently, flour the board lightly, turn it out, cut with a knife and shape it as quickly as possible into loaves. It will make three of medium size. Place in bread tins and cover again. It will be ready to bake when it has doubled in volume. This will take from thirty minutes to an hour, and many of our practical housekeepers who have baked after this formula ever since the first successful trial, vary the rule by using only a cake and a half of yeast to a quart and a half-pint of wetting. This amount gives enough dough for about two dozen rolls in addition to the bread. The dough for the rolls can be put in the ice box and kept until needed for use. After being shaped into rolls for breakfast at bedtime the roll pan can be put into the ice box, if the weather is hot, to remain all night. It should be taken out the first thing in the morning, to give the rolls time to rise before baking. If the weather is cool the rolls should be covered closely in the same manner as the bread, and put where the temperature will not fall below sixty degrees. Bread made in this way is light and sweet and uniform in quality. It is altogether the best and easiest method for family use. The bread does not "taste of the yeast," as many people think, and the "snow process" flour does not require the same amount of kneading which was necessary to get good bread in the good old times. —Buffalo Courier.

All persons, including Lessees of grazing lands, are hereby required to take notice that the cutting of timber on the public lands without authority from the Minister of Interior, or the Local Crown Timber Agent of the Dominion Lands for the District, is forbidden by law and all timber so cut without authority is liable to seizure and to be dealt with as the Minister of Interior may direct.

Each settler on a homestead quarter section not having timber on it, may on application to the Local Agent of Dominion Lands, purchase a wood lot not exceeding twenty acres in extent, at five dollars per acre.

Any person other than a homestead settler desiring permission to cut timber, must make application to the Minister of Interior, who will deal with such application according to law.

Persons who have already cut timber without authority, must pay the dues thereon to the Crown Timber Agent at his office, on or before the 1st May 1885, otherwise the said timber will be confiscated under the provisions of the Dominion Lands Act.

TOWN TOPICS

Just call and see the toys, fancy goods, and miscellaneous literature opening at the mail office Bookstore this week.

The Governor General has left for the east, so he will taste none of our Manitoba frosts.

Glenwood is going to carry its voters' list before the County Judge. We wonder if there is another famous "blue list" down there.

It must be rather a cold day for Ireland, when Winnipeg cannot get an elevator until, as the Free Press puts it, the Farmers' Union comes to the rescue.

Messrs. Scott and Driver are now finishing up the carpenter work in Durst's Block, and they will make a most excellent job of the business.

Mr. Wm. Creighton says that but another farmer besides himself had wheat damaged by frosts this season in his municipality (Daly), and he is willing to patiently submit to fate since all of his neighbors have succeeded so well.

Mr. Durst's new building is nearing completion, and in a few days you will see the genial Dutchman, like Bacon, at his crucibles in the back room, turning some of the baser metals into gold. Mr. Bawden takes the other store.

In reply to the offer of rebate for prompt payment of taxes, our city collector received upwards of $2,000 up to the 15th inst. This is unmistakable evidence that hard as the times may be there is yet a large amount of cash in the hands of our citizens, that can be caused to circulate with a very little coaxing.

Call and see the great variety of fancy goods, toys, &c., now being opened at the Mail Book Store, Post Office building. There is everything to please every taste. While there ask for anything you want in the way of light reading, and it will be given you at the cheapest rate.

Mr. E. A. Healy, of Carleton with the assistance of one boy raises 2,500 bushels of wheat this season, and what is more, over the one half of it escaped all frosts, and the greater part of the balance is a very fair sample and all well saved. He too is well satisfied with the farmer's prospects in this country if not too ambitious. Well done, Bruce.

A recent issue of the Live Stock Journal and Fanciers' Gazette, published in London, Eng., contains a long extract from the last annual report of the Manitoba Department of Agriculture, dealing with the question of horse breeding in this province.

Mr. McKay is putting in the foundation for a new store, he is about to erect, on Rosser ave., opposite the Merchants Bank. In the course of a couple of weeks, we will give an entire list of new buildings completed in the city this year, and we are confident their total value will not fall far short of $100,000, which is the best record that can be shown by any city or town in the country. While other places are at a stand still or worse, Brandon pushes ahead.

Mr. T. Nicholls, of Souris City, is confident his profits on wheat growing will net $3,000 this year over all expenses. Of course he has been provided with sufficient means in his operations, but still a portion of the expenditure has been sunk in permanent improvements. He is quite satisfied with the result, and is more than ever convinced that as the farmers of this country force their operations in conformity with the country's requirements and grow out of all wild expectancy, they will become as successful here as they can in any other country, with the same capital invested.

The Under Secretary of State for England has sent to the Provincial Secretary of Manitoba a letter addressed to him from C. S. S. Armstrong, inquiring as to the whereabouts of his father, John Armstrong, who went to Toronto in 1875, and who was at St. Agathe, a few miles from Winnipeg, in 1877. Any information on this subject would be gladly received by the Provincial Secretary.

Mr. W. C. Hunter, of this city, prosecuted in an action against Mr. Chapelle, at Virden, for causing a prairie fire, and he was fined $20 and costs, by the magistrates.

H. H. Goulet left for Brandon on Monday. He will be away about a month and during his absence the business will be conducted by his partner, W. C. Hunter, who arrived here on Saturday.—Virden Advance.

Mr. D. L. MacKenzie, of Winnipeg, has purchased the Silby elevator here, and J. A. Mitchell is going to utilize it.

The markets vary but little from last week's quotations: Barley is firm at 30c. About 68c. is the ruling price for wheat, but some good samples have been sold at 70c.

Mr. A. R. Crawford is busy putting new tubes in the fire engine. He has arranged with the machine shop for boiler power, should the engine be required while the repairs are in progress.

The following barristers were appointed Queen's Counsel at a Cabinet meeting Friday afternoon: Hon. C. E. Hamilton, N. F. Hagel, Winnipeg; and Mr. David L. Scott, Regina.

Mr. John Gregory was in the city Monday, making more extensive arrangements for the sale of his flour. His mill is now in the very best of running order, and having a very extensive capacity, he is enabled to turn out a very large quantity of the very best article.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hughes returned from Winnipeg on Saturday, where both had been prostrated with that dreadful disease diphtheria. Mr. Hughes' family have had more than their share of experience with that horrible disease.

Messrs. Hughes & Patrick have received another large shipment of lumber from their contract with the Rat Portage mills. As they are now selling many kinds of lumber as cheap as it can be purchased in Minneapolis, it is a clear case the duties on lumber are now but very slightly in the way of progress, even in Manitoba and the Northwest.

The Provincial Secretary has received a telegram from the Deputy Governor-General, stating that Thursday, the 12th of November, has been appointed a public day of thanksgiving, instead of Saturday, the 7th, as was previously arranged. A proclamation in accordance with this intention will be issued by the Local Government.

The express from the east did not reach here until 12 o'clock, Saturday night. The delay was occasioned by a smash up near Lake Deception. The express at that point ran into a freight ahead, smashing three cars to atoms, and causing quite a conflagration. Fortunately there was no one badly hurt.

THE HON. MR. WHITE

To be Banqueted This (Thursday) Evening.

As was formerly announced, the Hon. Mr. White is to pay this place a visit, but on a much shorter notice, than it was at one time thought would be given. He is to reach here by regular train from the west, at 12 o'clock to-day. By an arrangement made at a late meeting of the Conservative Association, a committee of reception has been appointed, into whose hands he will fall on the arrival of the train, and will proceed after a little ceremony of introduction, to the residence of Mr. Clement Smith, for lunch. After lunch he will take a drive into the country to several points of interest, accompanied by as many as choose to avail themselves of a little recreation. On his return, a supper will be held in the Masonic Hall, where there is room for as many of both sides of politics as choose to attend. After supper, the hon. gentleman, who is known to be one of the best speakers in the country, will give an address, which will doubtless foreshadow many of the suggestions that have occurred to him in his recent trip through the country. By request of the Conservative Association, the hon. gentleman has kindly consented to remain in the city until Saturday at noon, where he can be interviewed by all, of both shades of politics, who desire to converse with him on all matters of public importance. This will give Dr. Fleming and the Farmers' Union a full opportunity to air themselves to their hearts content.

PROVINCIAL APPOINTMENTS.

To be license inspector for District No. 6, Richard LaTouche Tupper, of the city of Winnipeg. To be issuer of marriage licenses, James Stewart, of St. Andrew's. To be members of the Protestant section of the Board of Education, the Most Reverend the Metropolitan of Rupert's Land, the Venerable Archdeacon Pinkham, Rev. D. M. Gordon, and Mr. J. B. Somerset, whose terms of office have expired; W. A. Donald, of Pilot Mound, vice Rev. A. Matheson, and Rev. Alexander Langford, of Winnipeg, vice Rev. E. A. Stafford, who has left the province. To be notaries public for the Province of Manitoba, N. D. Beck and Joshua Denovan. To be registrar, pro tempore for the registration division of D'Elerville, Charles Henri Pacaud, of St. Norbert, vice George Roy, whose resignation is accepted.

BRENDA.

Grain is turning out well, the average around Melgund being 30 bushels of wheat per acre.

Mr. Lake, of Melgund, has a fine crop of wheat which eclipses the much vaunted wheat of Hartney.

Farmers are busy with their fall ploughing.

Mr. D. Moore, of Oak Lake, is going to stake out a trail from that place to a point on the Souris River, three miles west of Melgund.

A large quantity of grain will be shipped at Oak Lake from the eastern parts of Brenda and Medora.

CONCERNED ABOUT THE LOOKS

"Malinda, I'm astonished at you—standing at the telephone with your hair in papers and your collar crocked."
"Why, mother, I don't see why that should matter."
"Of course you don't. You never did care how you look. How do you know who's at the other end of the phone?"

A DELIGHTFUL PLACE.

"Where are you going my dear?"
"I'm going shopping, mother."
"Did you see what Sam Jones, the evangelist, said about women who go shopping?"
"No. What was it?"
"Well, he said half a full of women who spend their time in shopping."
"Did he? Why, I had no idea it was so delightful a place!"

AN EFFECTIVE CURE.

"Doctor, do you think my wife will ever recover from that dreadful hay fever?"
